

Spring Registration Down Slightly From Fall

REGISTRATION---MADNESS WITH METHOD

OH, FOR A SOAPBOX

More Than 9000 Students Register

Largest spring enrollment since San Jose State has followed the semester system ended yesterday with a total of 9,085 full-time students registered.

Last spring 8,340 full-time students enrolled. September, 1957, 9,364 registered—an all-time high.

Accounting officer Glen E. Guttormsen in stating that this is the highest second half enrollment, mentioned the fact that spring registration figures are usually lower than in the fall (there are more new students entering from high schools in September).

Ed Pagter, in charge of IBM calculating, said that breakdown as to number of returning, continuing, new and graduate students would not be known for some time.

LIMITED REGISTRATION

Limited students (those taking 6 units or less) will complete registration at 7 tonight.

Pagter said the IBM system worked quite efficiently this semester. The only problems were caused by pre-registration of senior and graduate students inaugurated to enable these students to be certain of obtaining courses needed for graduation or advanced degrees.

Many students were confused about their standing and either tried to pre-register when they were not eligible or did the opposite and did not pre-register, Pagter stated, adding that he expected this confusion to be "ironed out for the fall semester."

Last September, handing out class cards at the registration tables proved quite unsatisfactory in Pagter's opinion. He thinks the method used this semester whereby students will receive class cards at the first meeting of each course will solve the situation.

LAST SEMESTER

Last semester there were almost as many students attending San Jose State as there were enrolled at all of the California State Colleges in 1940—11,911 to 12,100.

In addition, SJS' enrollment has almost doubled since 1950 when it was 6123.

Now, Dat Didn't Hurt Much, Did It?

By LOLA SHERMAN

The obstacle course has been run; 9085 full time students "qualified."

They have successfully passed through a reserve book room (in which they did nothing and saw no one), climbed the stairs and passed by numerous A, B, and C signs.

DISASTER?

In order to pay tuition, they passed through a doorway clearly marked "for disaster use only."

These aforementioned students were the lucky ones who found registration packets waiting for them. Mrs. Irene M. Epstein, assistant professor of journalism and a graduate student, was still trying to trace her IBM cards at 2 p.m. yesterday. She had wearily wended her way between the Registrar's Office and the "hand-out" tables in the library.

In contrast, Helen Bacigalupi had two registration packets waiting for her.

FIRST FIVE

Filling out the first five cards was harrowing enough, but students then didn't know what to do with them. In the past, there has been a check-out station where registration booklets were turned in and one's worries were over (until classes started).

Just like Abe Lincoln wore when he beat the pirates at Tripoli! Real honest to goodness Clarks of England Desert Boots—and only 12.95! You may say wrong war, and wrong man—but they're still good shoes. (and inexpensive)

Today's news includes the heightening of hostilities between France and Tunisia, the resignation of Red Chinese Premier Chou En Lai as foreign minister and a change in U.S. policy regarding the proposed East-West summit conference.

French and Tunisian relations worsened sharply last night over last Saturday's French air force attack on a Tunisian village.

REPRISAL MOVES

In two reprisal moves, Tunisia barred all French warships from further use of the North African harbor of Bizerte and ordered five French consulates in Tunisia closed.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En Lai resigned as foreign minister yesterday on his own recommendation and was replaced by 60-year-old Vice Premier Chen Yi, regarded as one of Red China's most brilliant soldiers and intellectual leaders.

Chou will retain the premiership. In the Red Chinese hierarchy he has ranked second only to party leader Mao Tse Tung.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said yesterday that a foreign ministers' meeting with Russia is not essential as a prelude to an East-West summit conference.

EAST-WEST NEGOTIATIONS

Dulles' statement was viewed as a major step toward early East-West negotiations through ambassadorial channels to arrange a summit conference later this year.

Airman Donald G. Farrell, who is testing man's aptitude for space travel by spending a week alone in a three-by-five-foot "Space ship," went into his third day of confinement yesterday "mentally keen" and "doing excellently."

TEACHERS SALARIES

Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, "father" of the atomic submarine, said yesterday he would favor taking money away from the Defense Department, if necessary to raise teachers' salaries and improve the nation's schools.

The University of California asked the state legislature today for $7,500,000 to acquire sites for three large new general campuses.

The sites would be located in San Diego County, Southeast Los Angeles-Orange County and in the Central Coast section, possibly in the Santa Clara Valley.

BROWN'S STRATEGY

Forty-seven committee members of Atty. Gen. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown's campaign for governor discussed their strategy in such whispered voices Monday night that the janitor of the building thought they had gone home and locked the doors.

Police had to be called about 10 p.m. to free the politicians.

Mrs. FDR To Speak In Civic Auditorium

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will answer the question, "Is America Facing World Leadership?" at the Sunday Evening Community Forum in Civic Auditorium Sunday night.

General admission for the lecture, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., is $1.10. Tickets are available at the Civic Auditorium Box Office today through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

An ardent Democrat and critic of the Eisenhower foreign policy, Mrs. Roosevelt long has participated actively in political life. In 1945 she was appointed by President Truman to the U. S. delegation in the U. N. General Assembly. From 1946 until 1951 she served as chairman of the UNESCO Commission on Human Rights, and helped write the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

She wrote "India and the Awakening East," following a tour of Asia, and is now a volunteer worker for the American Assn. for the United Nations.

In several polls conducted by the American Institute of Public Opinion, Mrs. Roosevelt has been voted "the most admired woman in the world."

Reserved seats will be held for Forum members till 7:15 p.m. Sunday.

IBM or IRBM? That Is The Question

While SJS students concentrated on their IBM forms the first morning of finals, school administrators and other personnel were concentrating on finding a bomb which was supposed to explode in "one of the new buildings," according to John Amos, buildings and grounds superintendent.

The San Jose Police received a tip Jan. 23 that a bomb was to explode in one of SJS' new buildings between 8:30 and 10 a.m. that morning. The police contacted the President's Office, and an hour-long search ensued. Buildings were not evacuated, however.

No bomb was found, and one was wondered aloud if it might have been a desperate attempt to get out of taking a final.

New Departments Formed by Division

The History, Economics and Geography Department has been divided into two separate departments with new heads for each.

The new History Department will be headed by Dr. H. Brett Melendy, assistant professor of history and education, and the head of the Economics and Geography Department is Dr. Andrew P. Lassen, professor of economics.

Dr. Lassen, a native of Denmark, received his A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of California. He taught at Heald College, Oakland; Modesto Junior College and San Mateo Junior College before coming to SJS in 1945.

Dr. Melendy joined the faculty in 1955 after teaching high school and Junior College in Fresno. He received his A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Stanford University. He previously attended Humboldt State College near his native Eureka.

National Dames Club Is Planned

Say, wives, need a night out? This is the offer of a local chapter of the National Dames Club being organized on this campus. The club is for married women students and wives of students attending SJS.

The first meeting will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Engineering Building, Room 118.

According to organizers Roberta Unger and Blanche Hofeldt the organization is for wives bent on meeting new people and having a good time. They divide into a number of interest groups to discuss such topics as homemaking, child study, arts and music.

Mathis' Scheduled Appearance Here Canceled by Deans

The scheduled appearance of Johnny Mathis, Columbia recording artist, on campus Feb. 24, has been canceled.

An "invitation only" reception had been planned by Ron Schmidt, who handles Mathis' campus appearances, at the Kappa Alpha Theta house the afternoon of Feb. 24, following a tour of the campus.

Dean Elizabeth Greenleaf, associate dean of students, said that the appearance had been canceled because of an agreement of the personnel deans this past fall which stated that no individual organization may sponsor professional entertainers. The two main reasons for this ruling is that it would involve too much time of other individuals, such as police protection, and that many organizations would be pressed by entertaining groups to sponsor them, she explained.

Mathis will appear the night of Feb. 24 at the Civic Auditorium with Cal Tjader, June Christy and the Lancers following his press conference at the Hotel Sainte Claire. On Feb. 25 Mathis and his show will travel to Berkeley to visit the Cal campus and hold a show in the Berkeley High School auditorium.

Cloudy—No Change

The weatherman's forecast for the Santa Clara Valley today is cloudy with little change in temperature. High today will be 57-64 degrees. Southerly winds are expected to range from 10-20 miles an hour.

APhiOs Open Book Exchange in S.U.

Alpha Phi Omega is again holding its annual student book exchange in the Student Union, according to Jim Joy, publicity chairman.

The exchange opened Monday and will remain open until Feb. 19. Students may bring books to the Student Union where they will be sold for two thirds their last sale price. A fee of ten cents is charged for this exchange service, Joy said.

Alpha Phi Omega has sponsored this project for many years, Joy stated. Funds raised from the activity have been used on campus for such items as the hi-fi set in the Student Union, the brick barbecue pits by the Women's Gym, the Spartan Daily boxes around campus and the annual APhiO Turkey Trot.

SJS Gets Biggest Slice Of Education Budget

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's 1958-59 proposed state budget, including a $13,128,240 capital outlay request and $8,476,309 in operating costs for San Jose State College, is expected to emerge from committee this month before going to the legislature for a vote in March, Executive Dean C. Grant Burton reported today.

Dean Burton said that the state budget presently is being reviewed by the Senate Finance Committee and the House Ways and Means Committee. "These committees are considering budget items preparatory to making recommendations to their respective houses," he said.

Reg. Dance Cools Air

Monday night found many SJS students pushing aside IBM cards and worries over already filled classes as they took advantage of the lighter side of registration and attended the Registration Dance.

The dance was held at the San Jose Civic Auditorium and was sponsored by the Social Affairs Committee, headed by Gordon Cassacia.

Entertainment was provided by the Dull Skulls, a student singing group composed of Kay Rieder, Geri Dorsa, Joanne Swenson and Pauline Tedesco, accompanied by Jim Gault. Among their numbers was a new song, "Donna Marie," written by Gault and another student, Ron Giardina.

Joe-Betty Contest Ends Friday

Candidates' pictures and jars for money which will count as votes may be found in the Outer Quad and Library Patio beginning today for the annual Joe College-Betty Coed contest which ends Friday.

Winners of the contest will be announced at midnight during a dance to be held Friday night in the Women's Gym from 8 to 1. The Freshman and Senior classes are co-sponsors of the contest, which is held each year to determine the most typical male and female college students.

Nickles will count as votes, and students may vote as often as they wish, according to Connie Evans, chairman of the event. Admission to the dance is 35 cents, which will count as seven votes. Campus clothes are appropriate attire, and refreshments will be served.

Booths and displays will be set up from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. today through Friday.

Contest entries and their sponsors are:

Jim LeGate, Lambda Chi Alpha; Wayne Montgomery and Carol Rose, Delta Zeta; Marsha Hodgson and Don Breitenbacher, Alpha Chi Omega; Ann Hackett, Garland House; Gay Ann Renger, Catholic Women's Center; Jim Griffith, Delta Sigma Phi; Carol Simms, Kappa Delta; Linda Buxton, Holiday Hall; Pat Murphy, Delta Gamma; Judy Coleman, Sigma Kappa; Berry Swanson, Chi Omega; Merle Osborne, Di Bari House; Barbara Baines, YWCA; Bob Silveria, Sigma Pi; Gerry Wion, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Sally Bouton, Phi Mu; Bill Bjorge, Theta Xi; Jeri Bullock, Alpha Phi; and Sharon Brown, Kappa Alpha Theta.

The legislature met briefly after Gov. Knight released his proposed budget last week and referred the budget to committee for further study.

After the budget comes out of committee late this month or early next, the legislature is expected to meet to vote on the final draft.

The capital outlay request for the 1958-59 school year at SJS is the second largest in the college's history, the 1957 building budget setting an all time record.

The $8,476,309 in operating costs for 1958, represents a 14.1 per cent increase over last year's $7,431,515, and a new high for the college. The state will spend $830 on each SJS student in 1958-59 compared to $765 per student in the 1957-58 academic year.

Another half-million dollars is expected to be added to the budget for salary increases at SJS.

The new budget provides for an increase in the SJS staff from 1130 to 1208 persons.

Gov. Knight noted in his proposed budget that, "Measured by the demands of industry and the current emphasis on technological achievement, science and engineering are among the most important occupational offerings in the state colleges."

In keeping with Gov. Knight's and the country's concern about the lack of scientists and engineers, the biggest single item among SJS' proposed capital outlay projects is $6,743,000 to construct a multi-story addition to the Engineering Building. The new addition will be located on the corner of Seventh and San Fernando streets.

Other major items in the proposed capital outlay budget are: A library addition at Fourth and San Fernando streets, necessitating razing the Student Union building, $2,174,000.

A Music Building addition, $720,240.

A Speech and Drama Building addition, $617,800.

Remodeling of the old Industrial Arts Building for a corporation yard, $229,000.

Remodeling of the old Art Wing for the Journalism Department, $214,300.

Equipping corporation yard, $32,000.

Equipping journalism facilities, $70,000.

Equipping new Art Building, $180,000.

Equipping new Industrial Arts Building, $535,000.

Equipping Health Building, $173,000.

Equipping Faculty Office Building, $32,000.

The Big Picture—and You

San Jose State is a pretty impressive combination of architecture and statistics.

The architecture, once Ivy League with a Spanish accent, is frantically trying to catch up with the times. The state is being asked this month to spend $13 million more for new buildings.

The statistics are awe-inspiring, too. More than 10,000 students and 1100 staff members spend most of their daylight hours here during the week. Eight million dollars a year is required to keep the campus running.

Going Up

Enrollment, staff, expenses and curriculum continue to expand and increase, making SJS one of the state's leading centers of higher education.

This semester The Spartan Daily will bring to you the day-to-day story of this Big Picture—with interpretation and explanation to help you better understand your school and the part it plays in your life.

But we won't ignore the one factor that makes the general view possible—

You.

Your story interests us, too.

Many of you are here to get an education—

some to broaden your knowledge, others to insure that extra $100,000 income a college education is supposed to bring, some for both reasons.

Many of you, primarily, are looking for a husband or wife.

And some of you are here because you have nothing better to do.

Whatever your reasons for being here, most of you are active. You're attending classes, joining clubs, participating in student government, attending sports events, going to parties and dating. In all this, you're making news.

The Longer Look

The Spartan Daily will tell this story of you—of your achievements and your failures; of your attributes and your shortcomings. We'll pause from the day-to-day welter of meetings and announcements to take longer looks at the significance of you and your actions, and show you how the Big Picture affects you.

A wise editor has said that the newspaper is the first draft of history. We hope that The Spartan Daily this semester will be an accurate reflection of the "Big Picture"—and how you fit into it.

the Hot Seat

By RANDIE E. POE

What with a new semester beginning, we should, I suppose, discuss the happy, sun-kissed aspects of college life.

But each time I begin to feel exhilarated, I think mournfully about collegiatedom's biggest sore spot—the sick, monotonous lecture.

It seems a bit bewildering that the American educational system has held up so well with so many sleep-producing professors. Most students will agree, I think, that less than 30 per cent of the college faculty deliver even slightly interesting lectures.

Most profs seem devoted to hypnosis and it is especially tragic when they do not awaken the students' perceptions. But unfortunately, we cannot dispatch blue cards to our professors.

In addition to the drowsy and dull, there is the withered wit set, which is more concerned with gags than world history. Men of this stripe are about as funny as Christmas at the poor house.

Just as sweet talk cometh before seduction, you and I will digest more wireless wisdom and humdrum humor during the upcoming months. It has always struck me as strange that some men will strive so passionately to obtain laughs when they could improve their lectures with much less effort.

This Unappetizing Pulp . . .

What makes this predicament more cheerless is the fact that most of our superiors expect us to eat this unappetizing pulp . . . no questions asked.

Example:

One prof of my acquaintance couldn't possibly know how many scholars attend his sessions. His class is a double-dipped love affair between a professor and his notes. Only by mistake does he peek out from his archaic notebook.

Then, we have the diagram-dragged professor . . . a man who really depresses me.

He'll Show You via Graph

He'll diagram peanuts, prices and the big clean taste of top tobacco. Without humility, he'll show you via graph that morals are declining, forgetting, of course, that he is paid to teach conservation.

This man, in his last moments of life, will draw death diagrams on his pillow. I know it.

Attending lectures should not be an insipid experience. This is not to say that it should be a sugar-plum activity of ease, either. But there is little excuse for the hollow offerings which too many professors pass off today as modern education.

Turbo-Whipped Orators

All men are not turbo-whipped orators with bombastic styles. Nor should they be. It is obvious that a soft-spoken soul can be every bit as informative and interesting as a loud one.

Most collegians leave the average lecture as empty-headed as when they entered. Say what you will about "digging on your own," but the fact still persists that it is difficult to become interested in economics when the professor looks and speaks as if he were not long for this world.

Some critics have suggested that too many instructors are not equipped to teach, but maybe Ben Hecht's philosophical poem prevails:

O see the merry moron,
He doesn't know a damn,

I wish I were a moron,
My God—perhaps I am.

Social Ladder Is Slippery; Money Determines Level

By BOB KAUTH

Beware! The American social ladder is a slippery one.

The primary determinate of one's social level is money, according to "Elmtown's Youth," statistical report on the U.S. social system by August Hollingshead.

When dating across a class level, the chances are 2 to 1 a boy dates below himself; reciprocally, the girl dates above herself. This suggests the tendency of the male to look upon a girl from the lower social class as an object for sex exploitation.

Either a conscious or unconscious social bias toward students was revealed by teachers, principals, and superintendents. Grades were assigned according to a student's social level. Discipline was either enforced or neglected by teachers according to a student's social level.

Most of these intelligentsia do not recognize their bias. This is the hard truth: They deny any bias. They rationalize. They are sincere. They act " . . . as intelligently as they know how."

CONTRADICTION

This social stratum is a direct contradiction of the popular conception of the American dream. It has, however, " . . . survived attacks of innumerable visionaries, idealists, and reformers."

Rather than condemn its PERPETUAL existence, I would attack the denial of its existence. And it is being denied daily.

We all may be equal in the sight of God, but no two people ever can be equal in any other single respect.

Beauty is only skin deep. But the man who is not mindful of beauty has not been found. If he were, he would be indeed a silly fool. Beauty is a useful, valid standard, if a man is conscious of beauty when using it as a standard.

DAILY JUDGMENTS

Let all men know of the daily

judgments made according to one's money in the bank, automobile being driven, manners, bearing, physical attractiveness, attitude, length of hair, etc.

Let all men know that the best judging standard is the virtue of a person in relation to the judge, now and after future development. Then let each man determine his own criterion for judgment.

Let each man, however, be conscious of his criterion. Let him not say he loves a lady for her virtue, if it is her long, blonde curls he seeks.

There always will be a social stratum. To deny this is the folly. (Russia is trying to do so.) It never can be changed by man-made laws, which themselves cannot offer equality.

After all, is it so unholly that you must be better or worse than I in my single respect (except a divine)? Let's be thankful for the difference—and ever mindful of it!

Hawaii Summer School Applications Due Soon

Coeds planning to attend summer school sessions in Hawaii should apply as soon as possible, according to Jack Freskos, agent of the David Adler and Associates Travel Bureau.

University Study Tour of Hawaii will cost $499 for undergraduates and $549 for graduates. This price includes transportation, island tours, a Pearl Harbor cruise, a number of parties and social activities and a room in the new dormitory adjacent to the campus.

Government Job Exams Scheduled

Feb. 20 will be the deadline for SJS students filing applications for the 1958 Federal Management Intern Program and the Federal Service Entrance examination scheduled March 8.

Representatives of the Federal Civil Service will be on campus tomorrow to interview students interested in federal management training programs.

Sign-up sheets are posted in the Placement Office. The representatives will have specific instructions about application procedures and the exam itself and general information about career opportunities and advancement possibilities.

OVERSEAS JOBS

The March 8 exam may lead to management and other professional level positions at federal agencies in the United States and overseas, according to the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

In the past, SJS students have been approximately 70% successful in making qualifying grades in the test, D.M. Robbins, recruiting representative for the U.S. Civil Service Commission, said.

UPPER DIVISION STUDENTS

Juniors, seniors and graduate students are eligible, but undergraduates do not start work until graduation. Students in any major field of study are admitted to the exam.

Schools Abroad Offer Environmental Change

Students tired of the old fishing hole and coming home broke from Reno are being offered new and EDUCATIONAL ways to spend their summer vacations.

Tours to the USSR have been arranged so that American students and teachers can meet their Russian counterparts, see educational facilities and observe the everyday life of the Soviet student.

Each of the tours will be conducted by an American college instructor and will cover such European highlights as the Brussels Worlds Fair.

Information can be obtained from authorized travel agents or Maupin Associates of Lawrence, Kansas, one of the few American contractual representatives of Intourist, USSR government tourist bureau.

British schools are offering sessions in Shakespeare, literature, 17th century politics, philosophy, history and Elizabethan music for as little as $224, including room, board and tuition.

Full and limited scholarships are available for these six-week programs. Applications for scholarships must be submitted by

Mar. 1 and those for admission by Mar. 31.

Similar Austrian courses emphasize German language, European history, art, music, politics and psychology.

Applications for both countries' schools may be obtained from the Institute of International Education, 291 Geary St., San Francisco. Austrian applications are due April 15 for scholarships and June 10 for admission.

Scandinavian Seminars offers "person-centered liberal arts education in an international setting." Knowledge of Norwegian, Danish or Swedish is not necessary.

The $925 fee covers tuition, room and board for nine months, August to May. It is open to undergraduates for a Junior-Year Abroad, graduates and teachers.

Students interested are urged to apply now to the Scandinavian Seminars for Cultural Studies, 127 E. 73rd St., New York 21, N.Y.

On the domestic scene, New York University is offering a Junior year program in its College of Arts and Science and School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance; School of Education and School of Retailing.

SPARTAN DAILY—3

Former SJS Police Graduates Take Different Paths to Court

Two former SJS Police Department students distinguished themselves during the semester recess — one by breaking up a Stockton narcotics ring, the other by being sentenced to two years in prison for providing heroin to an addict.

Patsy Meintasis, 24, is credited with gathering information that led to the arrest of five men on narcotic charges in Stockton. For the last two months she posed as a heroin addict, and made buys from drug sellers under the direction of Stockton police.

STOCKTON'S POLICEMAN

Miss Meintasis' testimony before the San Joaquin County Grand Jury led to indictments of the five suspected sellers, the last of whom was picked up last week. She joined the San Jose Police Department last spring, and left in November to become Stockton's only policewoman.

Ludwig (Fred) Braumoeiler, 38, a top State Bureau of Narcotics agent, has been sentenced to two years in prison for providing an addict with heroin. After first insisting he had been "framed," Braumoeiler pleaded guilty to one count of a four-count indictment charging he disposed of 50 grains of heroin to an Oakland addict, Leroy (Bloody Boy) Adams.

The indictment accused Braumoeiler of accepting a TV set and a sports coat in return for heroin. He did not admit, however, receiving the items in exchange for the narcotics.

"PERSONAL GAIN"

Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown and his chief enforcement officer, Harold Robinson, wrote the chief federal probation officer, Albert Wahl, saying: "This office has reached the inescapable conclusion that defendant Braumoeiler, in his dealings with Adams, was motivated solely by reasons of personal gain in exploiting the known addiction of Adams."

(Some authorities had theorized that Braumoeiler had exchanged the dope for information.)

Five Courses To Be Given Sans Credit

Beginning next semester, five remedial courses formerly offered for credit will not be credit earning courses but will still be required of students who must take them, Dr. Fred Harclerod, dean of instruction, has announced.

Dr. Harclerod said that the General Education Committee, the Academic Deans Council and Pres. John T. Wahlquist have concurred on the new regulation regarding remedial courses.

The courses affected are: English A, sub-freshman composition; math A, fundamentals of mathematics; education A, fundamentals of reading; psychology 2, improvement of reading, and psychology 3, effective study.

Students May Use ASB Ditto Machine

A ditto machine is available in the Student Union for students and campus organizations, according to Darlene Harris, ASB secretary.

Mrs. Harris requires material be given her 24 hours in advance. She will run the machine herself and charge a minimal fee for paper and ink.

Cal Senior Has Lead In 'Storybook' Series

Principals in the filmed version of "Dick Whittington and His Cat" for the "Shirley Temple's Storybook" series on NBC are Jack Diamond, Martyn Green, Ashley Cowan and Judi Meredith. The show will be aired in March. Diamond, who has the role of Whittington, is a senior at the University of California.

THE MAN FROM ALLIED HAS FACTS YOU NEED

Thinking hard about what's ahead after graduation? You probably have some idea about industries, companies, jobs . . . futures. But you need facts.

Check that date below—the Allied interviewer will be here soon, ready to do some straight talking about your future. It's worth a half-hour to look into a company that has a dozen research laboratories, over 100 plants, and a nation-wide network of sales offices. It's worth learning about the room to grow at a company that makes more than 3,000 products . . . chemicals, plastics, fibers, and new ones every year.

Spartan Cagers Spill Gators, 71-41

San Jose State's basketball club ripped past San Francisco State, 71-41, in the losers' gym last night.

The offensive touch of Ned Fitzgerald, who tossed in five straight jumpers from the corner, and the defensive play of Marv Branstrom contributed heavily to SJS' success. Branstrom hogtied his center opponent, Gary Kenny, holding him to four points for the game.

Claiming a 13-4 lead after 10 minutes, the Spartans sped to a 29-18 halftime margin. Gil Egeland bagged eight points and Branstrom hit five to help Fitzgerald befuddle SFS' zone defense.

Jim Carnica, 5-6 guard, hooped 18 tallies to pace the Gators. Fitzgerald finished with 19 markers, Branstrom hit 15 and Egeland tallied 11.

San Jose State basketball squad pocketed two wins and dropped one decision in cage activity during the semester break.

Coach Walt McPherson's Spartans copped non-league triumphs over San Diego State, 63-60, and Sacramento State, 66-49, but suffered a 57-46 West Coast Athletic Conference loss to Santa Clara.

Eddie Diaz' two free-throws with 40 seconds left enabled the locals to edge San Diego. The Spartans held an 11-point lead with 4:45 remaining, but the visitors bounced back in fine fashion to narrow the gap.

Ned Fitzgerald, Bob Larson, and Diaz paced the winners with 15 points apiece, while Gil Egeland contributed 12. Jim Doherty topped the Aztecs with 15.

A 14-point attack in the opening minutes of the second half carried SJS to its win over Sacramento State. Center Marv Branstrom and Diaz shared high scoring honors with 18 each, with Egeland canning 16. Bob Larson and Branstrom turned in outstanding rebounding efforts for the Spartans.

Santa Clara checked in with one of its better defensive performances in stopping the Spartans in the WCAC tilt.

Frank Sobrero, stylish soph, sparked the Broncos with 20 digits. High scoring Diaz flipped in 16 for San Jose, while Larson added 13.

In a preliminary to the San Diego fracas, the Spartan freshmen tripped Menlo College 55-37 as Cliff Barrett bagged 17 points.

Intramural Basketball To Start Tomorrow

By CONRAD MUELLER

Although some students are still in the process of registering, independent intramural basketball will start full-blast action tomorrow as teams in the Eastern, Western and Northern leagues will see action. The Southern League starts on Friday and the Central Monday.

According to Bob Bronzan, director of intramural sports, each league will see at least six games to a half and will conclude the first half of play by Friday, Feb. 28.

Undefeated Sluggers Face Tough Marines

By JOHN SALAMIDA

Powerful San Jose State boxing team, unbeaten in three dual meet tests this season, battles the tough Camp Pendleton Marines tonight in Spartan Gym. First of 10 bouts on the action-packed program will begin at 8 o'clock.

Coach Julie Menendez' Spartan sluggers search for their fourth straight win against the Marines, having defeated University of Nevada and Cal Poly twice. The local's most recent victory was a 6-4 triumph over the Mustangs Saturday night in San Luis Obispo.

19 VICTORIES

The Spartans, in capturing their three wins, have registered wins in 19 bouts while losing six and gaining a draw in one.

Camp Pendleton, piloted by Tom Siragusa, carries a 1-1-2 record into tonight's meet. The Pendleton aggregation whipped Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, for its only win.

Six Spartan boxers will enter tonight's action with undefeated records this season. Nick Akana, Stu Rubine, and Archie Milton pace the group with three wins each.

AKANA VS. HARDINSON

Akana, highly rated 125-pounder, battles Otto Hardinsson tonight. Akana has won two of his matches by knockouts, while gaining the other by a forfeit. Hardinsson, a veteran of 1956 Golden Gloves action, sports a 9-2 record.

Rubine, 147-pounder, is Spartan team captain. An NCAA finalist last season, Rubine faces

Mike Brown, a newcomer who has had only two bouts. Heavyweight Milton also tackles a newcomer in Ray Woods. Woods, in his first year of competition, has a 1-1 mark, compared to Milton's unblemished 3-0 record.

DAVE NELSON
... Sports Unbeaten Mark

KNOCKOUT ARTIST

T. C. Chung (1-0) mixes it up with Jose Castellano (16-7) in the opening 112-lb. bout. Ten of Castellano's 16 wins have been by knockouts.

Bob Tafuya of the locals, who has won twice, battles Pacifico Agulay at 119-lbs. Tafuya is a two-year letterman, while Agulay chalked up six wins and one loss.

Dave Nelson, speedy SJS 132-pounder, tangles with Bob Denby in what looms to be one of the top bouts. Nelson has notched two wins and a draw, while Denby boasts a 17-3 record. Denby was light-welterweight champ of the First Marine Division in 1955-56.

"WINDMILLER" WELVIN

"Windmiller" Welvin Stroud, 139-pounder, scraps with Marine Don Lattimore, while Jack Coolidge of the Spartans goes up against Othell Sims. Sims has 24 wins against only three losses. Seventeen of the victories have been by KO's.

Two Spartan veterans tonight will make their first home appearance this season. Ed Bouvard faces Tony DaVilla in the 165-lb. scrap, while Fred Burson, squares-off with Freeman Hardin at 178-lbs.

Spartan Matmen Trek to Oregon

Leaving a string of six victories and one defeat behind them, San Jose State wrestlers leave by train this morning en route to Oregon where they will compete in three dual meets.

The Spartan grapplers tackle Oregon State Thursday night at 7:30 at Corvallis in their opening test. Oregon University matmen hosts the locals Friday night at Eugene, while the SJS gang meets College of Southern Oregon at Ashland Saturday afternoon.

Coach Hugh Mumby reports that Oregon and Oregon State are the toughest teams on the Spartan schedule. The Beavers were Pacific Coast Intercollegiate champs last season, while the University team was runnerup.

SJS dropped verdicts to both teams last season but hopes to reverse the decisions. The Spartans should have little trouble with the Southern Oregon club, having defeated them, 38-0, earlier this year.

Mumby announced that the following compose the traveling squad: Marvin Rodriguez, 123-lbs.; Don Perata, 130-lbs.; George Uchida, 137-lbs.; Myron Nevraumont, 147-lbs.; Donn Mall, 157-lbs.; Ken Spagnola, 167-lbs.; Russ Camilleri, 177-lbs.; and Nick Sanger, heavyweight.

In their only dual meet during the semester break, the Spartans whipped Stanford, 33-0, to chalk up their sixth triumph.

Nevraumont, Mall, and Spagnola copped victories by pins, while Sanger won by a decision. Perata, Uchida, and Camilleri bagged forfeit triumphs.

First Book Talk To Be Held Today

An informal discussion of "Elmtown's Youth" by August Hollingshead will be held by Dr. Harold Hodges, assistant professor of sociology, in the first in a series of "book talks" today from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. in the Library, Room 314.

Open to students and faculty members, Book Talk, an informal discussion period, will be a regular weekly program each Wednesday during the luncheon hour this semester.

Coffee will be served at 10 cents a cup and lunch may be eaten during the discussion.

Commenting on today's book for discussion, "Elmtown's Youth," Dr. Hodges declared that it upsets many American traditions that are so smugly accepted. The book offers a scientific report of the American social system based upon a study of a Midwestern community.

Dr. Hodges said the book was becoming "increasingly important" as its truth was slowly demanding recognition. He further indicated that it reveals men are not as equal as people seem to believe. Although a step up the social ladder is seldom made, the two most likely to be successful methods suggested by Dr. Hodges are "athletics" for the male and a "physical attractiveness" for the female.

(Postscript, page two, offers a review of the book.)

Book Talk has been arranged by a Library sub-committee, headed by Dr. Ezekiel Bogosian, associate English professor. Dr. Bogosian explained the program is designed to give students and faculty members an opportunity to exchange ideas in an atmosphere far removed from classroom pressures. Discussions are not based on required readings, he pointed out.

A faculty member will lead discussion of a book of his choice at each meeting. The purpose of this, Dr. Bogosian said, "... is to present a personal evaluation which will stimulate an exchange of views among those present." Extra copies of books to be discussed have been ordered by the Library, but they will not be placed on reserve.

The Book Talk agenda is as follows:

The discussion leader, book and date—
David P. Edgell, The Stranger—Albert Camus, Feb. 19.
William H. Poytrass, The New Class—Milovan Djilas, Feb. 26.
John W. Aberle, The Organization Man—William H. Whyte, March 5.
Robert C. Gordon, By Love Possessed—James G. Cozzens, March 12.
Leslie Darbyshire, The Lonely Crowd—David Riesman, March 19.
Joseph A. Hester, The Ancient Maya—Sylvanus G. Morley, March 26.
John P. Bitts, The Desert of Love—Francis Mauriac, April 9.
Richard D. Tansley, The Philosophy of Modern Art, Herbert Read, April 16.
Henry D. Meckel, White Collar—C. Wright Mills, April 23.
Norman H. Dolloff, The Human Use of Human Beings—Norbert Wiener, April 30.
O. Clinton Williams, Sanctuary—William Faulkner, May 7.
Whitaker T. DeMing, Social Thought in America—Morton D. White, May 14.
Harris I. Martin, Revolution in China—Charles P. Fitzgerald, May 21.
Friedrich Simpson, Jr., Confessions of Felix Krull—Thomas Mann, May 28.
Paul Roberts, Language, Thought and Reality—Benjamin L. Whorf, June 4.
*The talks on these dates will be held in another room, to be announced later.

Bio Trip Students Must Attend Meet

Students selected for Marine Biology Field School, conducted during Easter vacation, must attend an important meeting tomorrow at 8:00 p.m. in Room F201.

Dr. Rocco Pisano, associate professor of biology, said that the meeting will inform prospective students of the procedures for entering Mexico. Academic paper work and vaccinations also will be taken care of at the meeting.

The school will be conducted at San Felipe, Mexico.

Vets To Apply Now For Summer Aid

Cal-Vets planning to attend summer school with the assistance of California educational benefits should make their applications soon.

The Veterans Service office, 40 W. St. James, San Jose, is now accepting new applications and reapplications for benefits for the coming summer session.

Students who do not already have certificates of eligibility should apply for the certificate when they apply for benefits.

SJS Grad Wins Commission in WAC Reserve

Barbara Sevier, 30, graduate of SJS, has received a commission in the Women's Army Corps Reserve at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Miss Sevier received her commission as part of the WAC officer procurement program aimed at college graduates.

Miss Sevier holds an M.A. in education from Columbia University. She has taught in California schools for the past seven years, including one year at Monterey Peninsula College.

Educational Grant Awarded to SJS

One of the largest grants ever received by SJS from an educational foundation has been awarded by Crown-Zellerbach Foundation of San Francisco.

The $3900 grant was given because of the contributions SJS has made in training teachers for the handicapped.

The money will be divided into three parts with the largest amount to go toward graduate fellowships for teachers interested in teaching exceptional children.

Ballet Russe Is Scheduled To Perform in San Jose Civic Auditorium Saturday

The world-famous Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo will play one performance at the Civic Auditorium Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Net Star Enrolls Here

Whitney Reed, eighth-ranking amateur tennis player in the United States, yesterday enrolled as a sophomore at San Jose State, according to the United Press.

Reed, whose home is in Alameda, said he will resume a course in physical education that he dropped at Modesto JC more than five years ago.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed in Stockton that Reed has entered the annual San Joaquin Challenge Cup Tennis Championships, set to start on Washington's Birthday.

Spartan tennis coach Butch Krikorian reported yesterday that the top-ranked Reed is ineligible to compete on the SJS team this season, but will be eligible next spring.
